Procedures & Activities:
Show students the video National Pastime 1940-1950. Students will take notes on the provided handout throughout the video. The teacher should stop the video at the following times and lead the class in a discussion and/or completion of the required question(s). The title of the video section is listed first, followed by the section discussion prompt(s) and/or question(s).

Introduction:
Q: There is a war occurring, what war? Who was fighting in this war and why?

Baseball:
Q: What was happening in the U.S. and around the world at this time?

Discuss: There are signs in the ballpark stating, “In case of air raid follow arrow” and “Buy war bonds” What do these signs mean? Why are these signs posted in the ballpark?

A Summer of Heroes:
Discuss the political climate in the summer of 1941- i.e. Hitler controlled all of France, FDR’s speech in May promising to go to war if need be.

Q: Why was Joe DiMaggio voted the greatest American of all time over Washington and Lincoln by a history class?

The Joy Zone:
Q: What is “The Joy Zone”?

Q: What contributions did Ted Williams bring to baseball?

Q: What were the Dodgers like during this time?

Q: Did Dodger fans fit the team image? Why or why not?

War:
Q: What significant historical event occurred on Dec. 7, 1971?

Discuss: The bombing of Pearl Harbor.

Discuss: Which was more important, playing baseball or fighting for your country? Why?

Q: Why were the women baseball players called the “Queens of SWAT”?
Q: Why were women banned in 1952 from ever playing in the M.L.? How does this compare with blacks being banned from playing in the M.L.?

The Answer is No:
Discuss: Judge Landis said there were no written rules or laws prohibiting blacks from playing in the M.L., but how did he ensure the “old gentleman’s agreement” stayed in effect?

Q: It was stated, “If we can stop bullets, why not balls?” What does this statement mean?

Q: Why was Jackie Robinson court marshaled?

Name the two wars Jackie Robinson said he was fighting. 1) Foreign enemy 2) Prejudice at home

Bottom of the Sixth:
In August of 1945 the war ended and the Japanese baseball stadium was cleared of unexploded ammunition and the Japanese were urged to play baseball again to foster democracy. How would baseball foster democracy?

This I Know:
Discuss: Why did a black player say, “If I could just tear off my skin, I’d be like everyone else?” Is this true?

Q: What is bigotry? Give examples during this time.

Q: How did “Happy” Chandler feel about blacks playing in the M.L.?

Discuss: Branch Rickey wanted to integrate baseball for two reasons 1) he believed in fair play 2) He wanted big profits. How would integrating baseball accomplish both of these reasons?

The Race Man:
Q: What types of negative situations did Branch Rickey try on Jackie Robinson?

Q: What did Jackie Robinson have to promise Branch Rickey for three years?

Heartbroken:
Discuss: The Red Sox lost the World Series for the first time in 1946 and didn’t win again until 2004. Why is this period often called “The Curse of the Babe?”

Big League Material:
Q: Baseball had its ups and downs, name two or more things that helped baseball survive through the years.
Discuss: Montreal Royals manager asked, “Do you really think a nigger is a human being?” Why did he say this? Was this how most white people thought during this time? Why or why not?

Q: What negative situations did Jackie Robinson face when he played for the Montreal Royals?

He’s Coming:
Discuss: How was the signing of Jackie Robinson to the Dodgers M.L. team the “death nell” for N.L. baseball?

Q: What defining moment in baseball occurred on April 15, 1947?

Discuss: Mario Cuomo asks a number of questions at the end of this section. Stop the film and lead students in a discussion of the questions he asks.

Up in the Race:
List some of the negative treatment Jackie Robinson had to deal with.

Discuss: Discuss the meaning of racial slur and what they meant

Q: Who openly spiked Jackie Robinson’s thigh? Why?

Q: Why were N.L. owners concerned about blacks playing in the M.L.s?

The Family of Baseball:
Q: Why did Satchel Paige pitch for the Cleveland Indians?

So Would the Babe:
Q: Babe Ruth died from what?

Conclusion: Lead the class in a recap/discussion of the significant historical events and individual baseball players’ contributions.

Extension and Enrichment: Students create their own bat according to the specifications in The Joy Zone. Students can use any materials they wish, but the bat should be created to scale and weight of Ted Williams’s original bat. The bat was 35” long, weighed 34 ounces, had a 7” boned area in the barrel called the Joy zone and a groomed handle. Students could use Styrofoam, floral foam, tin foil and newspaper, cardboard etc. to create replica bats. For further information, students can go to the Louisville Slugger website at http://www.slugger.com/, click on create your own personalized bat and see the length and appearance of baseball bats.

Assessment: In A Summer of Heroes there is a song about Joe DiMaggio and in Up in the Race there is a song about Jackie Robinson. Throughout the film music/songs were sung to narrate a story about the different aspects of baseball and history. Now, in groups, you will write a song narrating a historical event, the impact baseball, or a baseball player’s contributions had on the nation and/or the world from 1940-1950. Your song will be read or sung to the class.

Alternate Assessment: Students create a PSA poster in groups advocating the integration of blacks into M.L. baseball.
